What are Southern Cross University Vocational Qualification Credit Linkages?

Credit Linkage arrangements facilitate entry (admission) and/or credit for prior learning into a named degree for any person holding one of the approved vocational qualifications/courses, without the need for a 'formal agreement' to exist between our organisations. This means all students can confidently articulate into the first or second year of a degree qualification with predetermined credit outcomes, no matter how the learning is obtained: face-to-face; on-campus; or online. If the Southern Cross University qualification is CRICOS registered, these credit linkage arrangements are also applicable to international students who will study in Australia on a student visa.

What credit transfer limits apply?

At Southern Cross University, standard credit amounts are awarded into discipline related Southern Cross University courses under Schedule 1 of the Credit for Recognition of Prior Learning Procedures. Southern Cross University will provide the maximum possible credit in recognition of prior learning, via our Advanced Standing process and reserves the right to make the final decision on the appropriate level of credit.

Will Southern Cross University package international offers with linkage partners?

Generally Southern Cross University will not package international offers for visa purposes with linkage partners, unless the organisation has campuses on the Gold Coast and is recruiting from low risk assessment country markets. Otherwise, assessment occurs on a case-by-case basis to consider approximate location of vocational and degree studies and other risks.

What is the general international student application and offer process at Southern Cross University?

1. International students from low risk assessment countries can apply directly to Southern Cross University. Some international students from high-risk assessment countries must apply through an Southern Cross University education agent. We encourage your education agents to also become a Southern Cross University education agent.
2. An applicant can apply online or can download, complete and submit the International Application for Admission with supporting documents to intapps@scu.edu.au
3. If an application includes evidence of current or completed studies from your organisation, the Southern Cross University conditional offer will show the reduced duration of study and current credit for recognition of prior learning
4. The applicant accepts, defers or declines the conditional offer
5. Southern Cross University checks off conditions on the offer, including evidence of completion of vocational studies with your organisation
6. Once all conditions are met, the applicant is given approval to pay
7. Upon receipt of payment, Health cover is arranged (with Bupa if by Southern Cross University) and Southern Cross University issues the Confirmation of Enrolment (eCoE)
8. The applicant applies for their student visa. The visa is granted or refused
9. The student arrives, and participates in orientation.

We look forward to growing our association with you in the future.

Yours Sincerely,

Nicole Cooper
